KITCHENER COMMENDS.
LONDON, September 30.—The Gazette today prints General Sir Herbert Kitchen's report of the Omdurman expedition. The Sirdar praises his subordinates, naming several hundred of them. He warmly commends the commissary, medical and transportation departments, and the "excellent rations which were always provided and kept the men strong, healthy and fit to endure all the hardships of an arduous campaign, enabling them at a critical moment to support exceptional fatigue, continuous marches and fighting for fourteen hours during the height of a Sudan summer."

VEGETARIANS AHEAD.
Vegetarians came out ahead in a recent 100 kilometer (64 miles) walking match at Berlin, with a time limit of 18 hours. Out of 22 competitors, 8 of whom were vegetarians, only 6, all vegetarians, covered the distance in the time specified, the winner finishing in 14 hours and 15 minutes.

FLINTS STILL IN USE.

It may surprise you to hear, says a New York Herald contributor, that, in spite of the millions of modern guns and rifles nowadays turned out, the ancient flintlock is not quite a thing of the past. There is still in England at least one manufactory of flints for this use. The flints are all made by hand, being placed on the operator's knee and chipped with a hammer to the proper shape. Of course a number of these flints are used for fire making. These go principally to countries like Spain and Italy, where the duties on ordinary matches and wax matches are so high as to convert them from the absolute necessity that they are in Great Britain and the states to a positive luxury, so that flint and steel are used.
